

Please help HoneyBear

She needs $3,000 surgery for her front legs!

HoneyBear is a four year old Chihuahua dropped at the shelter for euthanasia by a backyard breeder that had no more use for her. HoneyBear lived in a crate all her life, continually having puppies. She was badly abused which resulted in two broken legs. She is currently on daily medication to manage her pain.

Open Arms dog rescue, a non-profit organization in Palm Coast, Florida, is trying to raise enough money to pay for her corrective leg surgery. Cost is almost $3,000 as her injuries are old and healed badly without any medical attention. The orthopedic surgeon advises that without surgery, HoneyBear's condition will continue to deteriorate and within 6-8 months her only option may be the Rainbow Bridge. We are not ready to make that choice for her.

Our heartfelt wish is that caring people will give an abused young dog a chance to dream of a better life than the one she had previously known.
